

Who are Micas Training Ltd?

Micas Training Ltd was formed in 2007 by Carol Morey and is an independent company providing training and advice to a wide range of public and private sector clients worldwide.

The company has three directors and is supported by a wide range of Associate Trainers from both the UK and Europe with diverse subject matter expertise. All are highly experienced specialists and their knowledge is underpinned by an unrivalled level of operational experience in their field.

We run a wide range of training courses and programmes, across multiple industry sectors, to equip employees with the knowledge, confidence, skills and techniques to successfully address challenges they may face in their daily work. We also work with our clients to develop bespoke and accredited training courses for their staff nationally and are able to design, develop and deliver "end to end" training solutions.

We provide Trainers to deliver a range of incident management, security, health and safety, fire safety and first aid courses for clients such as Capita, Civil Service Learning, London Boroughs and County Councils, County Hall Estate Management, Sodexo and Securitas.

Testimonials

"The course was interesting and the tutor was excellent."

"A well delivered, informative and enjoyable course."

"The level of teaching was really good and clear."

"The course was fun, interesting, informative and enjoyable."

"The tutor was a great teacher. He made the time spent on the course enjoyable and fun to learn."

"I thought the course was going to be boring but the trainer was experienced and knowledgeable and made it interesting and informative."

All of our trainers are highly experienced; these are just two examples of trainers that we use to deliver some of our security, health & safety and first aid courses.

Pete Allen is highly experienced in training and dynamic risk assessment. He has more than 20 years' experience both as an in-house trainer and mentor and conducting case enquiries and investigations. Pete has a very thorough knowledge and passion for the subjects he teaches which shines through. He prides himself on making what could be stale subjects enjoyable and interesting.

Annie Derbyshire has had job roles and responsibilities in most aspects and at all levels of the security industry. She has worked in different environments including retail and commercial and is a highly experienced trainer. She designs and delivers courses to a high standard and enjoys making learning easy and fun for her students.
